Alma Mater

In New England stands a College,
Near blue Quincy Bay,
ENC our Alma Mater
Glorious for aye.
Laud her Merits, sing her praises,
Let our song ring free.
Hail to thee, our Alma Mater.
Hail, O, ENC.

Graceful branches lifted Heavenward,
Suncrowned 'fore our view,
Stand the elms upon our campus,
Reaching to the blue.
Shady walks beneath the foliage,
Flow'ring beauty rare;
Blessed by nature, how we love thee,
Alma Mater fair.

Clear her vision, high her purpose,
Lo, she stands serene;
And her faith is sure, undaunted,
Eastern Nazarene.
We will prove our strong devotion,
Loyal we will be;
True to God and Alma Mater,
True to ENC.
- E.S. Mann & Willliam Summerscales

n 1919, one year after the Pentecostal Collegiate Institute officially became Eastern Nazarene College, the college relocated its campus from North Scituate. Rhode Island. to the 15-acre site of the Quincy Mansion school in the Wollaston Park section of Quincy, Massachusetts.

Located about six and a half miles from Boston, the new campus represented a promising era for the college, one filled with hopes and dreams, that continues even today. Throughout the past 75 years, Eastern Nazarene College and her students have respectfully served the community and enjoyed the support the city has bestowed on the college.

In this Season of Change, may we always be reminded of the wonderful heritage of Eastern Nazarene College.

The Inward Sea "There is in every person an inward sea, and in that sea there is an island and on that island there is an altar and standing guard before that altar is the 'angel with the flaming sword.' Nothing can get by that angel to be placed upon that altar unless it has the mark of your inner authority. Nothing passes 'the angel with the flaming sword' to be placed upon your altar unless it be a part of 'the fluid area of your consent.' This is your crucial link with the Eternal."

Brandon D. Ayers

As I look over the past four years, I can see the many aspects in which I have grown. ENC has provided a home for me to reach out, grow, and mature in academics, maturity, and spirituality. I have realized that I need to strive with ambition through confidence and stability. I have realized, however, that this needs a proper balance. I am pleased with how I have done academically, but I can also see how other areas in my life have been affected because I often pushed too hard. My priorities were often lacking, and thus my spiritual life went through dramatic changes. As important as academics is in college, I have realized that accepting God's grace and growing in my relationship with my Heavenly Father is much more important. If there is one thing I want to leave here at ENC, in which I am striving for each day, it is to be as God calls us in Philippians 2:5-8:

"Your attitude should be the same as that of Christ Jesus: Who... did not consider equality with God something to be grasped, but made himself nothing, taking the very nature of a servant... he humbled himself and became obedient to deatheven death on a cross."

When I think about the last four years of my life, many words come to mind: friends, academics, fun, and most importantly God. There are many times that I have had to stop and thank God for allowing me to attend such a fine institution. There are so may other people who have helped me through my college career that it is impossible to mention them all. However, I owe a special gratitude to Dr. Fredreich for never allowing me to "take it easy" (even when I wanted to), and also to Dr. Shea for all of his help in applying to medical schools. I would also like to thank my roommate and good friend Ed for putting up with all of the bad music over the past few years. But most of all, I would like to thank my parents for putting me through college and never getting tired of listening to me gripe and complain about professors and work. I am confident that in the future, my experience at ENC will always be one which brings back only the best of memories.

Steven G. Beiler

As I look back over the past four years at ENC, I can only smile as events from each year race through my mind. I still remember that long trip my freshman year from Pennsylvania to Boston, wondering if I would survive the challenges which awaited me at college. Only through the grace of God, have I been able to overcome the challenges in my life which at times seemed impossible such as Christian Tradition and EMES. I would like to thank my friends whom have shared and contributed to four great years. I would especially like to thank Gary Calhoun for his investment in my life. He was not only a professor and a tennis coach, but a role model. Last but not least, I am very grateful for my parents continued support and love. There were many more people who contributed to the molding of my life, and I would like to say, "Thank you for giving to the Lord, I was a life that was changed."

James A. Casler

Trista R. Dearborn

One can tell a lot about a person by those who are a part of his/her life. Therefore, I would like to take this opportunity to recognize and thank everyone who has contributed to my life. This great big thank you is directed to many, yet I would like to acknowledge some extra-special people.

First of all, my dad (who went to Heaven a few weeks before this year began): Thank you for the example and legacy you have left. I miss you! My mom: Thank you for your guidance and encouragement- you are a strong person. I love you, mom. Craig: Thanks for a life-long friendship, you have always been there for me. You're the best! My dear friends- Shannon, Brown, and Sylvia: Thank you for all you have added to my life! Jason: Thanks for the laughs and the smiles. I'll miss you. My roommate Emma: Thank you seems so inadequate- it surely had been a challenging year for both of us, thanks for sticking by me. I love you, Em!

A final special thank you to Dr. James Cameron: Thank you for your unending understanding and faith in me. You have provided me with an invaluable education.

Thank you to all who have touched my life.

Tracy L. Gardner

I have often pondered my decision to attend ENC. Did I make the best choice? How would my life be different if I had chosen another college, a big-name university? Would I still be the same person I am today? Unfortunately, I will never know what might have been. But I do know I probably would not have had as many opportunities elsewhere. Never in my wildest dreams did I envision myself graduating with a double major and a minor, successfully completing an internship, and playing basketball and not warming the bench. And who would've thought I would be Sports Information Director for the Athletic Department? What amazes me the most is that I didn't have to pull too many strings to accomplish all this.

ENC taught me how to order pizza all by myself and how to pretend to be sound asleep when my wonderful roommate, Amy Sylvia, tried to wake me up when she came in at 3 a.m. I also learned never to skip Wednesday chapels or I would owe good old Uncle Gary (Prof. Calhoun) and my brother Eddy lunch. On a more serious note, I guess I anticipated and accepted that I would be just another face in the crowd. But on a campus where there is a building named after my family, how could I be? Honestly, if anyone asked me four years ago what I expected to get out of college, I would not have been able to predict this outcome. I suppose that's a positive thing because I accomplished more that I thought possible. Somehow, through the angst, I managed to survive. Running the risk of conforming to the standard Who's Who paragraph, I could never have survived with the love and support of my family.

ENC prides itself in the ability to offer life-changing experiences. Whether it is a change in my worldview or a broadening of my faith, a true change has occurred within me. And for that, I am deeply grateful. The friendships, love, knowledge, excitement, fears, diappointment, and insights that I have encountered here are all a part of what makes the ENC experience so valuable. I've appreciated the care and concern that has been given to me in times of need, as well as the many friends and professors that have modeled the life of true Christian service. I want to give a special thanks to Professor Holt for your listening ear and the ability to challenge me to be better; to Dr. Bromley for your hospitality and encouragement; to Dr. Yerxa for making class interesting and a pleasure; and to my parents for making all of this possible. You have all been true examples of Christ for me. Above all, I thank God for providing four years here to develop what lies within me. I am indebted to ENC for the life-changing adventures I have experienced here!

"What lies behind us and what lies before us are tiny matters compared to what lies within us."

The Road Not Taken Two roads diverged in a yellow wood, And sorry I could not travel both And be one traveler, long I stood And looked down one as far as I could To where it bent in the undergrowth; Then took the other, as just as fair, And having perhaps the better claim, Because it was grassy and wanted wear; Though as for that, the passing there Has worn them really about the same, And both that morning equally lay In leaves no step had trodden black. Oh, I kept the first for another day! Yet knowing how way leads on to way, I doubted if I should ever come back. I shall be telling this with a sigh Somewhere ages and ages hence: Two roads diverged in a wood, and I-I took to one less traveled by, And that has made all the difference. -Robert Frost

Looking back over the past seven years, I could never have imagined that my journey would have led me to where I am today. I thank God for the decisions He's made available to me as well as my loving wife to whom I continually consider myself lucky for being married to. I want to leave an overused yet under-lived poem to those still here at ENC. It has helped me stay on the right track. Never be afraid to stand alone!

Rebekah, J. Lockwood

I am amazed that four years have already passed me by. As I look back at my time at ENC, I realize it has been an incredible opportunity for growth in so many areas of my life. I am grateful to Prof. Shetler and Dr. Millican, who have continually challenged both my knowledge and love of music. My spiritual life has been greatly affected by my Flocks group of my sophomore and senior years. Each member of that group has provided a unique insight into who I am and what God is trying to accomplish through me. Finally, I want to thank my parents. Although they abandoned me in the middle of my senior year, their support and encouragement were felt even when their presence would not be. One of the most important lessons I have learned can be summed up in a quote by Marcel Proust, who said:

"The real voyage of discovery consists not in seeking new landscapes but in having new eyes."

Douglas R. Milne

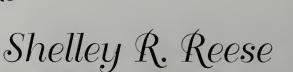

Katherine Mansfield put it best when she wrote, "Oh, how fascinating it was!"

sudden you have become a senior, and all the things you wanted to do in college but never did, are gone. Throughout my years at ENC, I have discovered that God will always be there. I know that everyone says that, but, as I look back on the worst moments of my life, I have realized there needs to be some damage done to create a better person. Through these times, I pray that it has made me a better person. College is not easy, and if I had the chance to do it again, I would spend more time in relationship building. As a senior, I have realized the importance of relationships. In my life here, I see how special the work "friend" is. In all the things I have been involved in, I hope that I have established these friendships. Although studying is important, and God is certainly at the top of the list, never disregard relationships. In all the activities I have been involved in at ENC, I have truly been rewarded. Whether it is in the ministry of the A Cappella Choir or just teaching S.I., I have been blessed by God and have seen His glory.

It is so interesting to look back and discover the various stages I have gone through to get to this point in my life. College is full of rewards and disappointments, spiritual highs and lows, times of pressure and times of fun, and experiences of freshness and experiences of complete exhaustion. It is also a time where, as a freshman, you believe that you have all the time in the world, and then all of a

"May you look back on the past with as much pleasure as you look forward to the future." -Paul Dickson

I have no idea who Paul Dickson is, but as I prepare to leave ENC, my scrapbook is overflowing, my photo albums are filled with vivid reminders of the past. And, I am thankful for the lasting friendships I have formed and which I suspect will help ease the transition into the future. As my days as a student end, I feel confident in saying, "It's time to move on."

In leaving ENC, I can only begin to understand the significant impact that it has had on my life. I have experienced incredible growth in scientific knowledge as well as how to think critically about the world. My faith is measured deeper with roots that will allow it to stand. I will always treasure my years here. Thank you to each faculty and staff member who has invested in ENC and the lives of its students. Special thanks to Dr. and Mrs. Hall, Dr. and Mrs. Stark, and Drs. Kathy and Bob Frederich. You have made the difference.

Angela Brown Smith

I can't believe it's almost over! As I look back on my past four years at ENC I can see I've grown so much. So many people have impacted my life and have helped me become who I am today. I'll never forget the friends with whom I've cried, laughed, yelled, and most of all loved. I want to thank my professors Mrs. Casler and Mrs. Knox for believing in and encouraging me when I wasn't sure what my future held. Out of all I've learned here, I believe the most important thing has been that I don't always need to know what tomorrow holds, for God is holding me, and He is where my confidence rests. All the experiences I've had- good and bad- I would not trade for the world, for each one in their own unique way has made me stronger and has made me who I am today. I thank God that for the last four years of my life, He has helped me to grow here at ENC.

Christina A. Whetstone

ENC was not my first choice for a college education. In fact, it was my last choice. However, God has a unique way of continually steering, molding, and forming my path. Rainbows are made of sunlight and rain. In the midst of my maturing, rain did fall but the sun was never far away. Several faculty members acted as sunshine when I only saw rain clouds. I would like to thank a few individuals: Marcia Gorton for her sweet Christ-like spirit, Dr. Karl Giberson and his uncanny ability to make me THINK, Drs. Jim and Ruth Cameron for challenging me to go beyond myself, Dr. Carl Winderl, my advisor for imparting his knowledge to me and his "you can do it—keep your chin up" attitude, and finally Dr. Kent Hill for reminding me of the importance of keeping my faith as well as my academics on track. It's true that obstacles become frightful things when you take your mind off your goals, but God always provides the right people at the right place and the right time, to make things a little less frightening and your goals a whole lot more attainable. Thank you ENC for providing the arena for this growth and thank you mom and dad for the encouragement to do so.

The Road Not Taken

Two roads diverged in a yellow wood,
And sorry I could not travel both

And that has made all the difference.

We survived! You are now reading this, reminiscing of all the great times we had in our first year together as the class of '98! There were some great times we will never forget. There was the first test or class you failed or maybe passed. There were many great activities such as Freshman Breakout, and Mr. ENC, in which the upperclassmen got a few laughs.

As freshman we faced many new challenges. We had to adapt to not having Mommy and Daddy to fall back on. We had to study into all hours of the night. But we survived! Our class had a lot of enthusiasm which made us different from all of the other classes. We managed to funnel our excitement and enthusiasm to constructive means, like gaining the title, "The Classiest Class." The experiences we had will always make our first year a memorable one.

As the freshman class it was exciting for us to put together activities and events. We came together as a council and stayed together through all of the stresses of responsibility. There were plenty of times that we felt like pulling our hair out, but we survived. Survival was what our class was all about. The trials and tribulations of our first year created a unique bond within our class. It was a great year and the class of '98 has a lot to look forward to in the years to come.

"Puting God First"

1 Corinthians 10:31

"So whether you eat or drink or whatever you do, do it all for the glory of God."

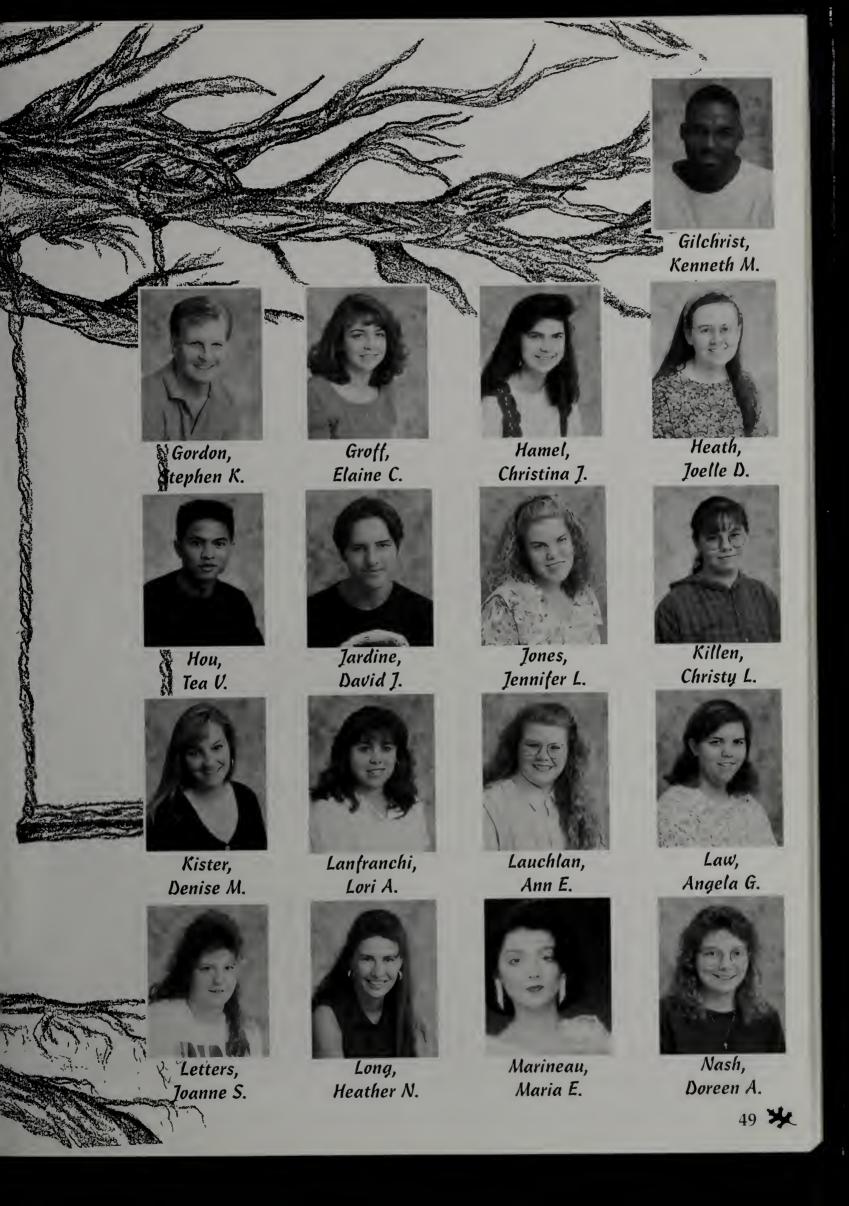

an it be we have made it through our second year of college? Yes, we have made it through not only one but two exciting and eventful years. The challenges have been accepted and the goals have been achieved. Core classes for the most part are all behind us and our majors are in the making. This year has been one of decision and focus for our class, focussing on God and the big picture that is ours to behold when we put him first in every aspect of our lives. The decision and theme is to put God first was a council choice that opened doors beyond our wildest dreams for our class. The future looks bright for these next few years as we learn more about ourselves, and most importantly, about a God who never fails us when we put him first.

Quote: "Behold the turtle he only makes progress when he sticks out his neck."

If you're wondering what in the world the Jr. Class council does, the simple answer is — everything!!!

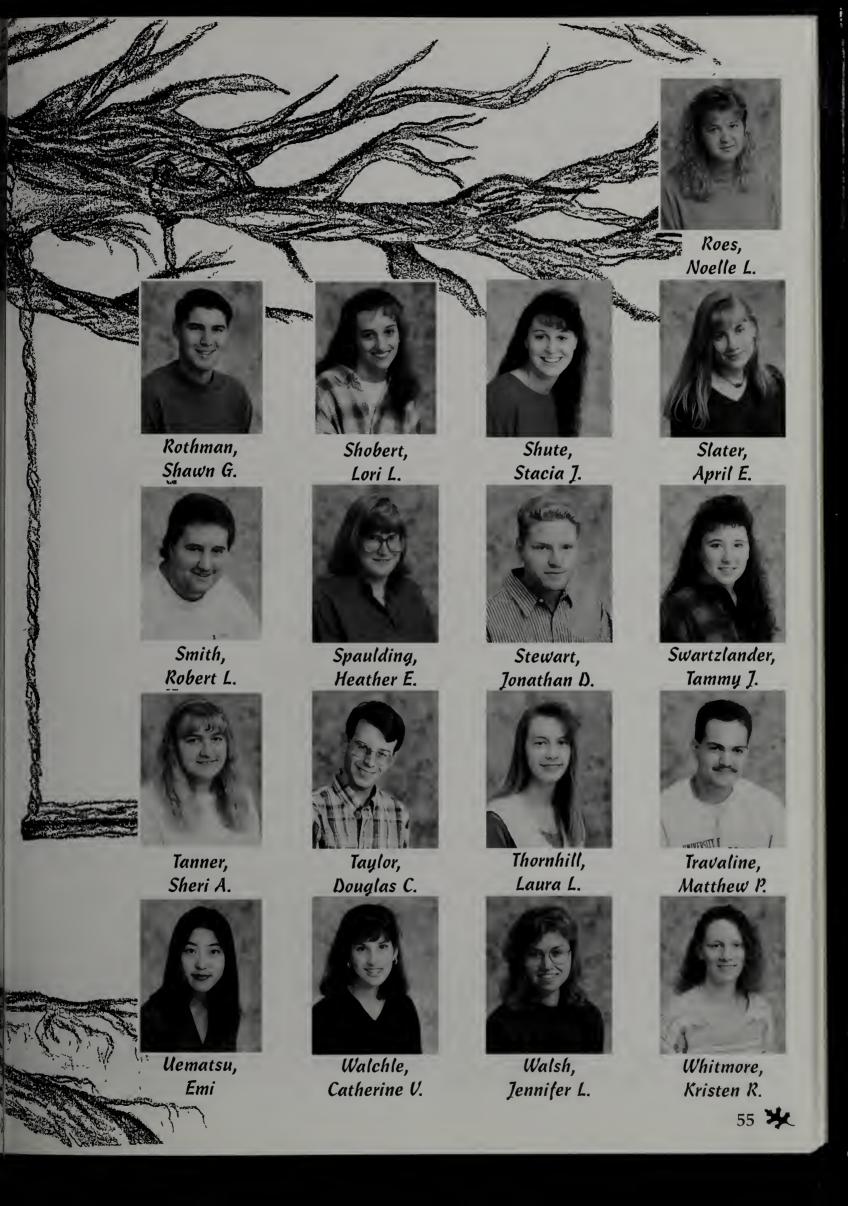

Anytime an organization needs anything, the first place they turn to is the Junior class. Fundraising is emphasized in order to have an excellent Jr./Sr. Banquet. (Of course this year's was the biggest success ever). A few of the things we did this year, in addition to the Jr./Sr. banquet were; Rollerskating, ENC Squares, Gotcha, Jail & Bail, pizza sales, and many others. We have really kept busy this year.

Here are some words of advice:

To the Jr. class council... Sell pizzas 'till you drop, stand by your man (Notice there's only one guy on this year's council). To the sophomores-make money NOW!!! There can never be enough game shows at ENC. Keep up the good work! And, if all else fails, you can always have the Jr./Sr. Banquet at McDonalds!

This year's Crusader soccer team finished their best season ever, ending with a record of 15 wins and 5 losses. After losing six starting players in 1993, Head Coach Giovanni Pacini and Assistant Coach Mario Pacini had the task of rebuilding the team ahead of them.

The team ended up with quite a few freshmen stars, which only added to the excitement of winning over arch-rival Gordon College for the first time in twenty years.

Leaving a lasting impression were seniors Rob Hutchison, Dan Collins, Eric Hughes, and Steve Martel. Hutchison was the premier goal scorer, adding 23 goals this season to his career total, making 81 goals. Opposite him on the field was Collins, who became ENC's all-time top goalkeeper. Eric Hughes finished his career, becoming ENC's number 4 all-time leading scorer. The Crusaders took the Commonwealth Coast Conference by storm, and the Wentworth Institute and Curry College fell to them in the first and second rounds. In the final round, freshman Paul Oliver's goal in the second overtime gave them the championship, over Roger Williams University.

The team is full of expectation for the next season, desiring to maintain the winning tradition.

The Women's Volleyball team, under the direction of second-year coach Janet Calhoun, ended a fantastic season by winning the Commonwealth Coast Conference Invitational and finishing second in the Salem State Invitational.

One of the big highlights for this year's team was to play on center court in Lahue, and the new court and rule changes made the games more enjoyable for both the team and the fans as well.

Leaving the team this year are Rebecca Miller, who ranked 5th in blocks and 7th in kills for Division III, NCAA.

She, as well as the other seniors Kim Lahr and Kristin Keen, will be a great loss of leadership. The team has great potential, and looks forward to another great season next year.

Back Row: David Dunmire, D.J. Jardine, Jeremy Fox, Micah Kidney, Jamie Fuller, Matt Bucklin, Edward Gardner, and Coach Carl Burgess.

The 1994-95 Crusader Cross Country team was extremely competitive this season. The men, finishing high in the majority of their meets, beat twelve other schools and finished third at the Gordon Invitational. Not stopping there, they continued on to win the ENC Homecoming Meet, and finish second at the Commonwealth Coast Conference Championship Invitational as well. Freshman Ed Gardner won the Homecoming Meet, as well as becoming the Commonwealth Coast Champion. Micah Kidney, a senior, also led the team, placing seventh in the Conference.

Although consisting of only three members, the women runners left a considerable impression on their opponents.
Rachelle Leger, Joyce Sampson, and April Slater consistently improved throughout the season. Leger finished second at the Gordon Invitational and the Commonwealth Coast Championships, and went on to become the New England Christian College Champion.

The 1994-95 Women's Tennis team, under the supervision of Coach Barbara Mahar, finished the season with a record of 6 wins and 8 losses. First year Coach Mahar did an excellent job, and the Crusaders took the number four spot in the Commonwealth Coast Conference. The team honed their skills, offering their opponents some stiff competition. Leaving the team this year are seniors Kim Donahue, the number one player for this year's squad; and Lynn Beverly, this year's most improved player. Overall, the squad showed great team spirit and have great potential for next year.

The men's basketball team felt the excitement of their third straight winning season. After a slow start, the Crusaders made a comeback which helped them place third in the Commonwealth Coast Conference. The team went on to fight their way into the CCC Tournament finals, falling to Salve Regina but remaining confident nevertheless. Senior Kobie Smith had an outstanding year, ultimately being selected for first team for all the Commonwealth Coast Conference. Defense was the team's biggest strength this season. the Crusaders finished with a record of 16 wins and 10 losses, and given the fact that all but one of the players were in their first or second year of college basketball gives the team great potential and anticipation for the 1995-96 season.

The 1994-95 Lady Crusader Basketball team played a very successful season, success not being measured in wins and losses but in growth and discipline. Challenged spiritually, physically, and mentally, the team united and adapted well under the coaching of Amy Dyment and Susan Harrison. Seniors Darcy DiFrederico and Tracy Gardner, who contributed greatly to the team both on and off the court, played with a leadership that will be missed.

The Lady Crusaders look forwafd to another exciting season in the coming year, full of anticipation for the success that lies ahead.

Top Row: Elaine Groff, Laura Thornhill.
Third Row: Jon Gessner, Dave Scalera.
Second Row: Matt Jones, Christina Whetstone,

Miosotis Martinez, Steve Sarney.

Front: Coach Tim Ebo.

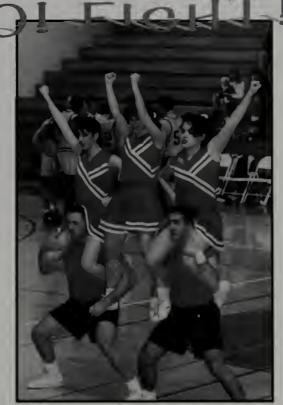

The 1994-95 cheerleading squad faced a challenging season successfully. Even after losing two members and suffering many injuries, they still managed to give impressive performances at the games. Though five of the nine members had never cheered before, all members worked hard to build a strong, talented squad.

Graduating this year is Senior Christina Whetstone, the team's captain. Overall, the aquad mixed hard work, teamwork, and even a little fun together for what was definitely a great season.

GOIFIGHT! GOIFICHT!

The 1995 Baseball team started a new winning tradition in ENC athletics. With a final record of 12 wins and 12 losses, the Crusaders not only finished the season with the first .500 record in 20 years, but also tied the record for the most baseball wins in one season with 12.

Led by Seniors Dan Jozefik and Steve Beiler, the Crusaders experienced a memorable season including the Spring Training trip to Cocoa Beach, Florida, and a win over Commonwealth Coast Conference champions Curry College.

With 15 out of 17 players returning next year, the team looks forward to another exciting year in 1996.

The Crusader Softball Team finished their season strongly with 6 wins, 11 losses, tied for third place in the Commonwealth Coast Conference. Co-captain Tammy Swartzlander lead the team and conference in stolen bases while Co-captain Colleen Gallagher lead the team with a .488 batting average (4th in CCC). Seniors Rae Fox and Kristen Keen, though playing new positions, handled them well. of the team members consistently improved, and with the loss of only two seniors, next year's team have bright hopes for 1996.

The 1994-95 Men's Tennis team finished a season characterized by positive attitudes, excellent sportsmanship, and continual player improvement. Though their final record was two wins, eight losses, this said nothing of the hard work and great tennis played. Co-captains Dan Collins and Matt Burnside, who held the number one and two positions, provided positive leadership for the team.

Leaving the team this year are Seniors Brandon Ayres, Jamie Casler, Jamie Fuller, and Rob LaRocco, The team played many close matches and enjoyed a good relationship between themselves and Coach Gary Calhoun. Those returning gained from this season valuable experience which will prepare them for next year.

Clubs and Organizations are an important part of our college campus. They bring us closer together, and create friendships that last lifetimes through competition and comradere. Clubs and Organizations are one way in which we keep the tradition of ENC alive from generation to generation. Most people believe that the Christian atmosphere, or the academic excellence makes ENC what it is, and they are right; but people seem to forget what also makes ENC what it is today, its many Clubs and Organizations. Where would ENC be without Rec. Life, SMO, Campus Camera, and the Societies? We need our Clubs and Organizations to keep the ENC spirit alive.

This year has been an exciting one for Delta. We have had a lot of enthusiastic members in the society who have helped to make many events successfull. We are presently in third place, and are psyched to be whooping Sigma's "can." Thanks to all of our energetic and active members, we would be nothing without you.

Kappa had a great year in 94-95. Although we started out slowly at the beginning of society competition we quickly gained a momentum that drove us into a second place spot which we maintained right up to the year end finish. It goes without saying that the overall enthusiasm of the Kappa Society council and the incredible participation rates and creative influences of all of the Kappa Cougars is what has made involvement in the smallest society's events worthwhile. I personally would like to thank my council for their time, energy, and most of all their friendship. I would also like to thank each and every member of Kappa. You guys are number one as far as I'm concerned.

Once Kappa, always Kappa. Go Cougars!

The Zeta Gators had an outstanding year! We began with society rush night where close to 50 new members signed up, pushing the Gator roster to over 90. The campus then turned green on Zeta spirit day, and after a disapointing second place finnish in soccer playoffs and third place playoff finish in volleyball, the seemingly impossible dream came true when Zeta placed first both in men's and women's basketball! The first annual society olympics were also held this year and Zeta ended on top once again thanks to competetive involvement in every event. This years council had a goal to help put Zeta back on top, and with the council's and each member's help, that goal was attained. Thank-you to everyone on Zeta (including Scott Casey who was men's sport's coordinator first semester). Zeta has proven to be the society to beat and will continue that tradition for some time to come..

Respectfully, Gregg Croteau Zeta President 1994-95

ft was an exciting and successful year for the Eastern Nazarene College Republicans! Our founder Lori Fair led our executive board of Doug Taylor, Paul Bowen, Joyce Sampson, Heidi MItchell, Kelly Roberts and the rest of the club on the front lines of Mitt Romney's Senate campaign, as well as many other campaigns. Being the second most active club in the state, ENC has taken the positions of treasurer and secretary on the state board for the upcoming year. The club would like to thank Lori for her commitment and persistance.

HOMECOMING KING ERIC HUGHES

A big slice of Cheddar! Cheese that is. That's how I felt when they announced my name as the new Homecoming King. Don't get me wrong; I'm not saying that the event was cheesy. On the contrary, I was honored. But that night brought me back about 11 years. 5th grade. Deja vu.

Picture, if you will, a tall, skinny, buck-toothed kid with short shorts, white tube socks-with stripes at the top-pulled all the way to the knee, and a mesh nuscle shirt.

That was exactly what I looked like when Sunday school teachers, parents, and a grandma knew how to embarrass me. There was the constant tweak of the cheek from granny, the kiss of death (a.k.a. the public kiss) from parents, and the predictions-from the pulpit-that I'd end up on the mission field from the Sunday School teacher! These are all things to be proud of, but they were embarrassing just the same. And it's in the midst of embarrassment when my cheeks flush, my two inch ears turn fiery red, and my pits begin to sweat profusely! Homecoming night was no exception. I kept hoping that all my symptoms would disappear. No such luck. Instead, that night was like a tweak, a kiss, and a prediction-all at once. (I'm just glad I was wearing a tux and not the muscle shirt and "Daisy Dukes"!)

Yet in the midst of rental tuxes and expensive flowers, the real meaning of the Homecoming coronation is what it symbolizes: royalty. As Christians celebrating Homecoming, we are reminded of another King. For, in our King, we see the qualities for which we should all strive, like integrity, sincerity, compassion, honesty, and gentleness. And it is only when we measure ourselves against these standards, that images of buck teeth and tube socks vanish. I pray that in the Homecoming to come, we will support the ENC royalty without forgetting the true King.

HOMECOMING QUEEN
CARLA WALCHLE

Homecoming Queen?! Me?! I've never felt so honored to be nominated into such a position before.

I was so nervons yet so excited. But no matter how I look at it; it was a chance of a lifetime I will never forget. I don't think I've ever smiled so much in my entire life! I felt so undeserving yet so greatful!

The entire weekend was wonderful. Taking pictures with all the girls at Marina Bay and getting in trouble for being in the boat was so much fun. My senior year has been one to remember as a definite growing experience, and yet one of the most enjoyable years of becoming closer to other seniors (especially us Education-wanna-bees). Most of all, I think Homecoming will be one of my best memories of my senior year here at ENC and an experience I will never forget. Thank you for that honor!

Erika Nicole,

Congratulations on your graduation. We've come a long way. May all your goals be realized and all your dreams come true.

Love always, Mom

"Trust in the Lord with all your heart and lean not on your own understanding. In all your ways acknowledge him and he will make your paths straight. Do not be wise in your own eyes, fear the Lord and shun evil. This will bring health to your body and nourishment to your bones. Honour the Lord with your wealth, with the firstfruits of your crops, then your barns will be filled with overflowing and your rats will brim over with new wine."

Congratulations Chris.
We thank God for you.
You make us proud.
Keep tooting the "da, da-da."
Praying God's best to be yours.
We love you!
Remember Proverbs 3:5-6

Well, it's the time of year again when the book is done and there's only one page left, the one you're reading right now. This year has been a busy one, and much hard work was accomplished during it. The Nautilus has made tremendous progress this year, from both qualitative and financial standpoints, looking towards the future in both respects. Next year, the Nautilus will be able to run on a comfortable budget and will have a new computer to enhance even further, the quality of this publication.

Right now I would like to thank everyone who worked on the 1995 Nautilus. To Bonnie, thanks for your hard work and creativity that will be reflected in this book. To Maria, thanks for your commitment and drive to be creative in all areas, making your section distinct. To Sylvia, thanks for your desire to make the senior section improve dramatically. To Jeannine, thanks for your attention to detail, especially when it comes to choosing and cropping photos. To Jen, thanks for being organized and willingness to put up with many delays and late photographs. To Erin, thanks for your creativity and ability to get the job done even when there isn't much time. To April, thanks for your drive and ability to stay up all night to do your section. To John, Jorg, Melissa, and Sarah, thanks for your commitment to taking quality photographs- it shows. To Matt and Gregg, thanks for putting up with me and for working above and beyond the call of duty to meet the advertising budget. Finally, to Gene, thank-you so much for your friendship and for your artistic ability that will be evident throughout this book. I give credit for all that I know about desktop design to you. I 'm glad that it took you so long to graduate, you will be missed dearly!

Finally, I would like to say that any compliments, complaints and \or ideas to make the 1996 Nautilus even better are things that I would like to hear. I feel that I have made many improvements this year but also know that I can improve- and I want to. So feel free to talk with me at any point next year, as I take on the position of editor once again.

Thanks, and may God bless you as you continue your pursuit of higher education!

In His service,

David Bennett
